Part II.—Proceedings of the Madras Legislature.

Bill No. 2 of 1905.—A Bill to repeal the Madras Labour and Emigration Act, 1886 (Madras Act No. V of 1886), with Statement of Objects and Reasons. 119

Bill No. 3 of 1905.—A Bill to amend the Madras Labour and Emigration Act, 1886 (Madras Act No. V of 1886), with Statement of Objects and Reasons (Change), (Amendment), (Repeal) and (Modification).

Bill to be introduced into the Council of the Governor of Fort St. George for making Laws and Regulations.

Under No. 55 of the rules for the conduct of business at meetings of the Council of the Governor of Fort St. George for making Laws and Regulations, the following Bill, with Statement of Objects and Reasons, is published for general information:—

No. 4 of 1905.

A Bill to repeal the Madras Labour and Emigration Act, 1886 (Madras Act No. V of 1886).

WHEREAS it is expedient to repeal the Madras Labour and Emigration Act, 1886, (V of 1886); It is hereby enacted as follows:—

1. The Madras Labour and Emigration Act, 1886 (V of 1886), is hereby repealed.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

The Madras Labour and Emigration Act, 1886, was passed chiefly for the purpose of regulating recruitment from the Coorgs and Vangapattin districts for the labour district of Assam. It has not, however, been in operation for the last seven years, the provisions of the Assam Labour and Emigration Act, 1901, passed by the Government of India, fulfilling the purpose for which the Madras Labour and Emigration Act of 1886 was passed, as far as concerns recruitment for Assam. Under section 3 of the latter Act of 1901 resolutions were published in 1901 and 1902 prohibiting recruitment for Asians from certain portions of the Ganges and Yangtze river districts, and prohibiting such migration from the remaining portions of those districts otherwise than in accordance with the provisions of Chapters III and IV of that Act, and nothing more is required. There is no necessity or intention to apply the Madras Act to control migration elsewhere. The provisions of the Act have fallen into disuse, and it is unnecessary to retain the Act any longer on the Statute Book.

24 October 1905.
